BOOKS CUT FROM YOUR BIBLE

Who cut them. When. In their own words.

c. 144 AD — Marcion of Sinope
Cuts the entire Old Testament. Keeps one gospel and ten letters of Paul.

c. 180 AD — Irenaeus of Lyon
Four gospels only. Names the Gospel of Judas and condemns it.

c. 200 AD — The Muratorian list
The Apocalypse of Peter: "some of us will not allow it to be read in church."

c. 364 AD — Council of Laodicea
Only "canonical" books read aloud. The Book of Enoch is not on the list.

367 AD — Athanasius of Alexandria
Fixes 27 books. Calls the rest "an invention of heretics." Monks bury Thomas and Philip at Nag Hammadi.

397 AD — Synod of Carthage
The 27 are locked for the Western church.

500s AD — The Gelasian Decree
Bans sixty books by name. Thomas. The Penitence of Adam. The Book of Og the Giant.

787 AD — Second Council of Nicaea
The Acts of John: no one may copy it. Ordered into the fire.

1534 — Martin Luther
Pulls Tobit, Judith, Maccabees, Wisdom and Sirach out of the Old Testament into an appendix.

1546 — Council of Trent
Seals the Catholic Bible at 73 books. Anathema on anyone who disagrees.

1826 — British and Foreign Bible Society
Stops funding any Bible that prints the Apocrypha. English Bibles drop them.

Today — Ethiopian Orthodox Church
Never cut them. Still reads Enoch and Jubilees. 81 books.

They did not cut these books because they were false.
